

Donna Hooper

Donna represents businesses in disciplinary matters brought by governmental agencies and boards such as the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control and the Department of Weights and Measures. She defends clients in hearings and on appeal.

Before joining Solomon, Saltsman, and Jamieson, Donna worked in indigent criminal defense as both a Public Defender and in private practice in trial and appellate courts. At U.C. Davis she was editor-in-chief of the law school news magazine - The King Hall Advocate and represented clients civil rights actions in Federal District court.

Prior to her legal career she worked in film and television commercial production in New York and Los Angeles.

Practice Areas:

- Administrative Law
- Litigation
- Criminal Law
- Employment Law

Current Employment Position:

- Associate Attorney

Bar Admissions:

- California, 2000

Education:

- University of California, Davis, JD
- University of California, Los Angeles, BA Anthropology